

GREAT GLOSSY COUNT

SAT 9 & SUN 10 SEP 2023

This year, we are flocking together & running the Coffs Coast Glossy Count as part of Australia's second ever Great Glossy Count.

The Glossy Project is a citizen science project led by BirdLife Australia, supporting the bushfire recovery of South-eastern Glossy Black-Cockatoos (a.k.a. "Glossies") & their habitat on the Coffs Coast (Gumbaynggirr Country) in NSW.

The Great Glossy Count 2023 is being held on Saturday 9 & Sunday 10 September across south-eastern Qld, eastern NSW, the ACT & eastern Vic. Volunteer citizen scientists will explore their selected survey site(s) to collect data on Glossies & their feeding habitat.

Learn about Glossies & collect data to support their recovery

VISIT OUR WEB PAGE: bit.ly/glossycount

Learn about the Count & access free guides & training resources.

REGISTER NOW: bit.ly/glossycount2023

Log in/sign up to Birdata, pass the short quiz & book your site(s) to participate.

Have any questions or information about Glossies?

Contact us at glossybc@birdlife.org.au